

Fulton Sheen

Former Michigan State Representative
President, WayWalk Inc. Board of Directors

Fulton will be speaking on:

The "Ifs" of Deuteronomy

Most of us have probably read Deuteronomy many times, as I have. However the last time through I started circling all the times "if" appeared. Over and over again, as God spoke to Moses He very definitively used the word "if" to denote the blessings and the consequences, of following His ways and commands, and not following them. In the book of Deuteronomy, God is providing us with both a summary of His commands and instructions and He is presenting us with a choice and opportunity to follow or not follow them. From the beginning in the garden to date, God has always given us a choice, but no other book more clearly articulates the consequences of those choices, better than Deuteronomy.

The Remnant Resistance

The enemy is scrambling and he is desperate because the end time remnant is rising and beginning to come together. And even though he knows that those in the world outnumber those in the Kingdom, he also knows that the remnant will be his undoing. He is not used to being caught by surprise, and he knows that this is only the beginning. The gates of hell have been storming the gates of the church for all eternity, but the enemy knows that the rise of the end time remnant changes everything. He knows that God's end time remnant will turn the tables and instead of staying behind the walls in siege mentality, the remnant will turn and bring the battle to him, and storm the gates of hell. Believers must make the paradigm change, they need to be to understand they are not the majority, they are not going to take over Congress, they are not going to take over the pagan society around them, and they are not going to establish an earthly kingdom. This is what people expected Jesus to do and He didn't do it and neither will we. When Jesus returns He will do it, until then we are supposed to be God's End Time Resistance, who against all odds and overwhelming earthly power and numbers, are able to win battle after battle against the evil empire and forces of darkness, principalities of the air and wickedness